Bioidentical Hormone Pellets For Women and Men

It's a simple fact of life. As we age, we lose the hormones that gave us the vitality, endurance and libido of our youth. The medical community has developed all kinds of injections, pills, creams and even suppositories to try to replace these youth-giving hormones, but none have provided the balanced, sustained results that BioBalance Pellet Therapy does.

Made from all-natural yams and soy, BioBalance Testosterone and Estradiol Pellets give you the hormones you are missing in a time release formulation. The tiny rice-sized pellets, implanted just under the skin of the hip two to four times a year, are absorbed into your bloodstream as your activity level demands the hormones. By combining the pellets with bioidentical testosterone and estradiol, BioBalance patients see immediate and dramatic results – they feel better, younger and more vibrant than ever!
